A pleasant feeling!

FlowGrill's power and experience is to relieve customers of extensive research by offering products as a project. Designing, engineering, production processes, coating and mounting are the ingredients of turn-key projects.

COMPOSITE PRODUCTS

Along with specialists, FlowGrill has researched composite technologies focussed on ventilation Grills and special products.

After realising some projects with composite materials, FlowGrill continued the composite technique and the results are impressive.

GLASS DESIGNS

The developments within FlowGrill are progressing. After our first glass experiments two years ago, a new design glass stripes in combination with aluminium are our latest results. Glass is popular. It was therefore a challenging research to combine glass with aluminium ventilation Grills. Together with a well-known glass supplier we found an easy composition with a great result; The ventilation grill looks like a window section.

FlowGrill has proven to provide excellent service and quality and wants to continue this reputation with new innovative products as well.
